For all recruitments, the eligibility of the researcher will be determined at the time of their first recruitment in the project. Researchers can be of any nationality. They are required to undertake transnational mobility rather the location of the researcher's residence or main activity during the 3 years prior to their recruitment is determining note that the mobility rule applies to the (first) beneficiary where the researcher is recruited, and not to beneficiaries to whom the researcher is sent or seconded.
PRESENTACIÓN DE SOLICITUDES ---- APPLICATION PROCEDURE
Documentación requerida / Application materials	Proposals must be submitted by the coordinator on-line via the Electronic Submission Service of the Participant Portal and before the call deadline. Topics and submission service: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- European Training Networks (ETN)</li> <li>- European Industrial Doctorates (EID)</li> <li>- European Joint Doctorates (EJD)</li> </ul>

The recruitment of each individual ESR will be supported for a minimum of 3 months and up to a maximum of 36 months. However, researchers enrolled in a doctoral programme are expected to be appointed for the maximum 36 months. Given the time required at the beginning of the project to advertise the vacancies and to recruit researchers, the 48 month duration of the project offers a sufficient margin to ensure that the researchers can remain in place for the full 36 month period.
